Jewellery designer Jitka Kudláčková is challenging herself to help Venezuela, and you can also take part

Together with the Czech-Moravian Association of Female Entrepreneurs, the owner and founder of JK Jitka Kudláčková Jewels is coming with a challenge to “Give up your lunch for Venezuela”, which is linked to the humanitarian projects of the ADRA organisation. “I have talked to famous personalities who, in support of the event, have donated autographed autobiographies, books and CDs,” stated the Czech jewellery designer. “I myself have dedicated my personal jewellery from the SOL collection, which is inspired by South America,” she added.

The funds from this collection will go to the purchase of basic food staples. The situation has also raised concerns among personalities from Czech cultural life. The challenge has been supported, for example, by singer Leona Machálková, actress Kristýna Janáčková and opera and musical singer Tereza Mátlová.

How can you help Venezuela? Give up your lunch and send the money to the account of the Adra humanitarian organisation 66888866/0300, variable symbol 397. The donors will be entered into a draw and rewarded. Or get designer jewellery from the SOL collection. You can get more information at www.jk.cz
